DETAILED ACTION

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.
2. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

Applicant is required to elect:

a specific method of inducing cell lysis from the group consisting of lysis mediated by antibody-dependent cell mediated cytotoxicity or lysis induced by an antibody conjugated to a toxic component, and list all claims readable thereon including those subsequently added.

3. Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.
4. The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reason:

The method of claim 9 has no special technical feature that defined the contribution over the prior art of WO 01/40308 (of record).

WO 01/40308 teaches a method of modulating an immune response comprising administering an antibody that induces dendritic cell lysis (see page 25 in particular).

5. Since Applicant's inventions do not contribute a special technical feature when viewed over the prior art they do not have a single general inventive concept and so lack unity of invention.
6. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
